

load information from Virtuemart

Posted by uafa - 15 Jul 2013 23:42

Hello,

My client would like to print reports products and product weights VirtueMart, so I decided to buy the sales analytics.

These products are already included in the tool Virtuemart.

How to do it?

Hello uafa,

Thanks for your interest in our products.

What kind of reports is your client looking for? Sales Analytics builds many kinds of sales reports, including products sold, their weight, and many more (taxes, locations where products are sold, top customers, inventory, and more).

These reports can also be exported to spreadsheets (like Microsoft Excel) for further processing or printing.

All the reports that Sales Analytics build are based on orders placed on the VirtueMart online store.

Kind regards.

Sales Analytics is a reporting tool designed for sales analysis, not for inventory. However, it includes a reports section for inventory analysis, that displays relevant information for products inventory and sold-out projections based on past sales. Those reports may suit your needs, and they can be exported to an spreadsheet for printing. Look for the Inventory section in the tool, and for the export data button at the bottom of the reports.

As this is a question that has been regularly requested by our customers, we'll work on including more inventory reports on our next release, so that this inventory section becomes even more powerful.

If you need any further information, please let me know.

Actually I bought this component to print reports and product weights because my clients miss this feature in virtuemart to update products.

I bought it, and if you provide me the update with this feature I'll wait. Just tell me when it will be ready.

If it takes too long or is not possible I'd like my money back, and the tool does not answer me.

Thanks and waiting your reply
