Hello, I need to research which are the top cities from where come the orders. How can I do it with sales analytics?

Hello Marcelo,

That's a good point. Now it can only be arranged by country, but we'll include a new city sales report on our next release.

Thanks a lot for your feedback.

Hello,

I would like to ask if that feature has been implemented as it doesn't show on the demo.

Hello PascM,

No, I'm sorry this feature has not still been implemented in Sales Analytics.

We'll update this information in the forum once it's ready, ok?

Kind regards.

Hi Folks,

it has been almost 2 years since this was first posted, and almost 5 months since the last post from LatitudeWeb.

When do you think we will see this? or is there a pointer as to how we can implement it ourselves?

I love your product, but as most users of products like this sell within only one country, a world map is of absolutely no value.

I live in Australia, and at the very least, need a breakup by states..... cities would be much better.

We are hanging out for this....

regards

Mike
